

MICROPLEX® OD

Environmental

What is MicroPlex® OD?

A fine powder of preselected absorbents and naturally occurring microbial strains that is formulated for use on spill-age of petroleum products and related wastes.

What does MicroPlex® OD do?

Can absorb and break down a broad range of hydrocarbon-containing wastes (from crude oil, gasoline, diesel, machine oils, solvents, and other derivatives) generated from various industries—including refining, petrochemical, transportation, textile, and steel-making.

BENEFITS OF USE:

- Absorbs and degrades petroleum products on water surface.
- Effective on crude petroleum, gasoline, diesel fuel, machining oils, hydraulic solvents, monomers and other petroleum derivatives.
- Contains only biodegradable components.

APPLICATION:

It is specifically designed to absorb and degrade spills on water. Also compatible with soil applications. Dosing is dependent on both type and volume of spill

CONSULT: Consult your local Huma® Environmental Representative or other soil or wastewater specialist for site-specific recommendations.

Biological Remediation

Activated Bugs & Oil Absorbers
